Tutoring Experience

With a decade of tutoring experience, I've helped students from diverse backgrounds excel in IGCSE Maths, A-Level, and AP Maths. My expertise covers various mathematical fields, from algebra and calculus to statistics, allowing students to build a solid foundation across curriculums.

Having worked with students across Asia and Europe, I understand the challenges of adapting to different examination standards. My commitment has helped students gain confidence and achieve high results, preparing them for university-level maths.
