Tutoring Experience

For over a decade, I've supported students in mastering IGCSE Chemistry, GCSE, and A-Level curricula, with a focus on complex topics like organic chemistry and chemical bonding. My experience working with students of diverse backgrounds has allowed me to adapt to different learning styles, guiding them to top results across a range of curriculums.

My teaching journey has taken me from Belgium to online classrooms, helping students around the world build a solid foundation in Chemistry. My familiarity with international curricula, including AP, has enabled students to achieve success in both coursework and exams.

Beyond tutoring, I have provided academic support for students preparing for competitive exams. Through targeted guidance and structured learning plans, I've seen my students go on to excel in advanced studies and pursue careers in the sciences.
